CHAMINADE HIGH SCHOOL

DAYTON, OHIO

Dayton's scattered towers, along with Chaminade's Men of 1960, suggest various characteristics: strength, communication, culture, spirituality. Towering physically, socially, culturally, intellectually and spiritually, the Men of 1960, after four years of striving, have truly become TOWERS AMONG MEN.

IN MEMORIAM

MICHAEL BRODBECK

Every day at Chaminade Mike Brodbeck depended upon his classmates to push his wheel-chair and to carry him up and down the stairs. But Mike always gave much more help than he received. His infectious smile, his sunny personality, his cheerful chatter — these warmed the hearts of all around him. Cheerful and uncomplaining, he became a friend to all who met him. Though confined to a wheel-chair, Mike was one of the most active boys in the school. From the sidelines he cheered Eagle football and basketball teams or waved to couples dancing by at Sock Hops. But Mike was never on the sidelines in school spirit. He lived life to the hilt, gave freely of his serenity, accepted disability with faith, triumphed over adversity with courage. On sturdy legs of courage and faith he walks resolutely before us, his memory as bright as the smile that came so easily to his lips.
